ALKALINE water PH10

Supercharged alkaline Ionized water for peak performance!

WHY YOU NEED DESIGNER WATER

While alkaline water, which has a higher pH than tap water, has long been regarded as a "miracle of nature" in holistic medicine, it is now being researched – and the initial results are astonishing. Founder and Managing Director of Designer Water, John Thompson confirms that, while water is the essence of life, alkaline water provides the full spectrum of water's life-enhancing qualities.

For anyone struggling with low energy levels and frequent illness, alkaline water may be the answer. The alkaline, ionized water made by Designer Water may help to increase energy levels and prevent certain lifestyle illnesses. Many Designer Water clients report a better overall quality of health and a feeling of improved wellness.

WHAT IS ALKALINE WATER?

A true alkaline water product will have the following features:

- pH of 9.5 or more
- Antioxidant properties which can neutralise free radicals
- Micro-clustered, offering the smallest water molecule size possible for superior hydration
- Mineraally ionized to regulate the body's pH levels, for improved health and wellness
- Balanced ions to help maintain a body pH of 6.9~7.2

Packed with bioavailable minerals, antioxidants, and reported healing properties, Designer Water, is produced using the best available filtering methods in Centurion, South Africa.
