Founded by Paul McGowran, Proactive NLP Ltd focus on the choices that people make. We are our choices and our choices bring our results. How people make choices, how people take responsibility for their choices or don't take responsibility creates the reality for people.

Being Proactive is to be accountable and responsible for our choices. The biggest choice we can make is to choose our purpose and then choose to follow that purpose to find meaning in life. NLP is a magnificent approach to explore the space where choices are made.
