

With a constantly changing showroom you will always find an interesting and diverse collection of decorative antique pieces.

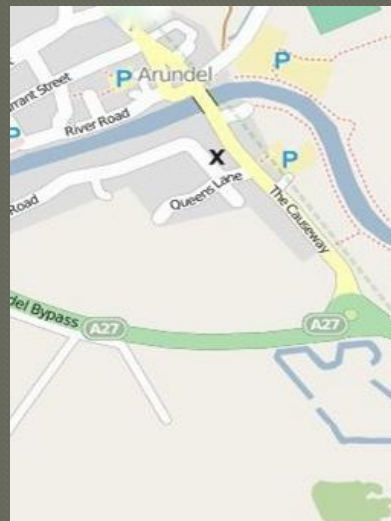

Arundel Eccentrics antique items are regularly featured in national magazines including Homes and Gardens, House and Gardens and BBC Homes and Antiques. Their furniture has also been seen in the US publication Architectural Digest.

In 2016 Arundel Eccentrics were invited to show a large collection of their decorative antiques on the 4th floor of Liberty in London.

Directions

The warehouse/ showroom is situated immediately behind Arundel's Co-op.
With three large decorative antiques showrooms The Old Brewery Antiques Warehouses are fast becoming THE destination for browsers & buyers.
On foot, walk down the alley next to William Hill, turn left at the end and sharp left again.
By road, drive into Queens Lane and follow the road to the right. The warehouses are a few metres on the right.
