Plagiarism and Academic Misconduct are serious issues which affect the integrity of assessments and finally the award.

Because of this London School of Business and Research may take any of the following actions where misconduct is identified:

- You may be given Zero Marks / No Grades for a Task or Section of an Assessment, or the whole exam/assignment
- You may be given zero Marks / No Grades for the whole Unit. - The recognition bodies would be informed about the same.

Examples of Academic Misconduct / Plagiarism

Cheating

This includes communicating with or copying the work of another learner during an examination; introducing written or printed material into an examination room; possession of any materials not permitted in the room, regardless of whether they are relevant to the assessment such as electronic devices including mobile phones, personal organisers, books, dictionaries / calculators (when prohibited).

Collusion

This is when a learner submits work as their own, when in reality it is done in collaboration with another person. This also includes actions where a learner knowingly permits another learner to copy all or part of their work and submit it as an original piece of work.

Falsifying Data

This could take place in for example research projects when learners gather and use primary data to support an argument.

Fraudulent Claims

For special consideration, while studying or for assessment. This might include forged or falsified documentation.

Ghosting

This occurs when a learner submits work as their own when it has been produced in whole or part by another person on their behalf. This would include the buying of assignments from the internet.
