

LINEAL

RAISING THE BAR TO SUPPORT YOUR CASE

At Lineal, we've worked hard to become the litigation support provider with a truly differential edge, supporting the needs of lawyers, in-house counsel and corporations with a seamless and competitively priced service that delivers exceptional value, guaranteed results and an accurate, efficient turnaround.

ONE DECADE ON

Like all technology, eDiscovery and the law surrounding it experienced a rapid change in 2018. This has also been the case for us at Lineal not only for the past year but the last decade, with 2019 marking the start of 10 years in business.

You may know Lineal started out as a legal document services provider but now we are also known for Digital Forensics, eDiscovery and recently for Cyber Security.

Over the years Lineal has become a one-stop shop for all litigation support matters and has remained true to the price, service and support promise across all service areas.

We're proud of our reputation to work confidentially with each client to provide a truly bespoke service.

From the outset, we partner with you to identify the resources and budgets needed to deliver the results you want.

Our bespoke budget management and quotation tools allow you to predict pricing and resources, minimising inefficiencies and reducing your costs.

Every member of our team understands the trust and reliance placed on us by our clients, whether they require support with Digital Forensics, Cyber Security, or eDiscovery. Contact our team of experts to discuss your requirements.
