HOW WE PURSUE YOUR CHILD'S POTENTIAL AT KUMON.

The Kumon programmes are for every child, whether gifted or in need of extra help. Every child will follow their own path of learning, working at a pace and level which is just right for them. In this way, we will ensure they develop a firm foundation in maths and English, the skills to benefit all learning, and the confidence to succeed.

Kumon study centres allow our students the time and space to grow in their own learning, with the guidance of the Instructor. This means that students feel confident and supported to work things out for themselves and to give it a try. Instructors acknowledge the growth of each student, without comparison to others, offering them praise and encouragement for their efforts and progress.

HOW IT WORKS

Easing them in

Following an initial diagnostic test, your child will study familiar work to build their confidence, develop their study skills and build a work habit.

From day one, we will be working on building their concentration, ensuring they sit with a good posture and work at a steady rhythm as they get into the habit of studying and learning every day from the worksheets.

Encouraging independence

As students move on to work they haven't seen before, they begin to learn new topics by working things out themselves, by following the instructions and examples on the worksheets.

Here students will be building on what they've learned in the previous worksheets, they will be correcting their own mistakes and will know how to use the hints given. They will have the ability to work solidly for 30 minutes without distraction.

Having confidence in their own abilities

We want our students to know they can find out the answers on their own, and to do that they need to focus. We ask you to support them at home by creating the right environment.

Find a quiet place they can work in every day, and ensure once they start they don't stop until the day's work is done. We do ask you to mark their work so that they can correct their mistakes straight away and learn from them.

Give encouragement and praise

We want their learning to be a positive experience and ask you, like us, to focus on the improvements that you see, no matter how small. We want to help build their confidence in their own abilities and maintain their motivation and enthusiasm for learning.

Watch them excel

Once they've developed a firm foundation in the subject and have developed the independence to learn from the worksheets, they will begin to tackle increasingly difficult work, knowing they have the ability to succeed.

If you would like any further information, please do get in touch and I will be happy to discuss with you.

KUMON