3.5 - 4 Hours

we are flexible with Start times to accommodate the needs of your business. Please feel free to discuss your timings with us.

Who should attend the Health and Safety awareness Course?

The Health and Safety awareness training applies to anybody in industry and commerce. It provides the fundamentals of good health and safety practice in the workplace for people from a practical background.

Where Can I attend the Course?

We can deliver 'in house' training at your Business venue and can provide you with a competitive price for group training. We can deliver any of the above courses at your place of work.

The 'on site' training option is particularly cost effective for Companies that have several people requiring training at the same time (usually 6 or more people). In addition to this there are many other benefits to arranging a first aid training course 'on site':

- Choosing your own venue gives greater convenience.
- Travelling and accommodation costs can be reduced or removed.
- A greater choice of course types are available.
- The course content can be tailored to your exact requirements.
- Businesses and Organisations can choose a suitable time to run their course.
