

Latest Trends in Muslim Wedding Invitations

Did you know that prior to the invention of lithography; wedding invitations were announced by a person (known as the town crier), who would pace throughout the town and broadcast the invitation in a loud voice? However, today wedding cards are very important. This article explores the latest trends that are doing the rounds in Muslim wedding invitations.

Top 3 Trends in Muslim Wedding Invitations

Want to get the trendiest of Muslim wedding invitations for your nikah? Here are some things you should keep in mind while designing your card:

Add Elegance to your Muslim wedding invitations with paisley designs

Widely termed as carrey in Urdu, this curved tear drop like design is the latest trend in the Muslim wedding invitation. You can opt for bright silver or golden paisleys, embossed over a backdrop of dark blue or indigo. However, if you want to keep it simple, an elegantly placed paisley made out of kundan in the center of rugged handmade paper cards can also look very graceful. You can also pair up the two folded paisley designed invitation card with a thick silk thread tied at the center.

Add a touch of royalty with scroll style cards

Whether it is today or ten years from now, scroll styled Muslim marriage invitation will always be special. Also known as a farman, this type of invitation symbolizes elegance and royalty. These cards are generally made out of handmade paper, velvet or vellum paper. However, you can also customize them as per your needs. So get ready to create a long-lasting impression on your guests by inviting them with these classic yet fashionable Muslim marriage invitations.

Portray the essence of Moghul heritage

Muslim wedding invitations are not only meant for inviting your loved ones to your wedding, they also represent the blend of religious, aesthetic and cultural aspects of the family. And when it comes to Islamic weddings, you just cannot ignore the influence of the Afghans and Moghuls. Your inclination towards Moghul art can be portrayed by having certain designs, such as leaves, peacocks, domes and feathers etched on the invitation card. You can even jazz up your wedding card by adding Urdu poetry to it. Remember to choose the material for the invitation card with care to ensure a great end product.

A wedding is one of the most important events in one's life. Therefore, make your Muslim marriage invitations remarkable and let them be the harbingers of joy and blessings in your life.

<https://shadicards.com/>