Group Support

Safety Officer

Safety is of paramount importance for all our operatives and site visitors.

By providing hazard analysis, Method Statements and Risk Assessments we are able to control all activities and reduce the risk of incidents.

By listening, learning and understanding, we continually improve our performance and the service we offer.

We will actively promote a positive Health and Safety culture and encourage communication between employees, managers and our clients to identify and resolve any concerns regarding the welfare of all.

Safety is, without doubt, the most crucial investment we can make; our commitment to maintain standards through regular training and discussion is positively managed by the organisation's Health and Safety team.

Skill Base

We provide a dedicated team of qualified tradesmen with experience ranging over 25 years

Richard Alan Construction workforce has the experience to undertake projects ranging from minor repairs and maintenance to major refurbishment, specialist projects and all construction work.

On every project, Richard Alan Construction will assemble an experienced team of contracts managers; site agents and project managers are supported by full survey, planning and administration services.

It is our commitment to deliver excellence and meet the business needs of our clients.
