Maintaining Synthetic Surfaces with our dedicated team trained to the highest standards

Power Cleaning by trained technicians optimizes the performance and maximizes the life

It is vital that synthetic grass surfaces are maintained on a regular basis to help eliminate the build up of dirt, dust and debris. Our power cleaning process removes the top layer of infill from the surface, filters and vacuums out contaminants and then re-distributes clean infill to the surface.

Failure to remove surface contaminants will result in the surface gradually consolidating; this will affect the porosity of the surface and reduce comfort underfoot. Ultimately the lifespan will be reduced along with rental revenue.

The majority of facilities operate some form of in-house maintenance. Our packages are designed to compliment this work and we aim to ensure that the most effective maintenance programme is adopted to suit each individual facility.
