Bespoke Joinery

Product/Service Information

Welcome to Joinery Direct, we are specialist custom joinery manufacturers servicing the UK. As our name implies you will have access directly to the manufacturers and therefore receive the financial benefits that we can offer purchasing from source. Realising the need for custom joinery manufactures the company was founded over 20 years ago by Terry Bailey and has become a well-respected name through the UK as suppliers of top quality joinery for products both for the public and the building trade network. We can work from architect's drawings or to your personal requirement and specifications whilst ensuring that all our products comply with current building and conservation regulations.

Our Rochdale based workshop offers a range of products including, windows, doors, French doors, frames, arched frames, circular work, conservatories, and more. Our experienced and friendly staff are on hand to assist you with the requirements you desire and can advise you further should you encounter any complicated situations. At Joinery Direct, we only employ qualified tradespeople and we have an apprentice training scheme which enables us to ensure the continuity of excellence in workmanship throughout the product range. All orders can be collected directly from our workshop alternatively we offer a C.O.D. delivery service within the UK.
