Best Ireland Tour Packages for Spring 2023

4/19/2023 0 Comments

The spring season is the best time to visit Ireland, which is between February and May. From June onwards, the summer season begins, which is also quite pleasant, but it can get quite crowded, especially in this post-pandemic phase when tourism is rebounding strongly after months of the slump.

Customised and carefully curated tour packages provided by a local Irish tour agency can be very helpful for direct cost savings as well as for having a generally regulated and safe experience since travel prices rise to make up for the losses during the lockdowns and travel restrictions.

If that's exactly what you wanted to hear, our article has some of the top Ireland tour packages for you to enjoy this spring, along with some helpful suggestions to make your trip truly unforgettable. From city tours and sports tourism to cultural tourism and shopping experiences, there are plenty of options to enjoy city life, historical tours, music, art, and festivals in Northern Ireland and its cities.

Sports Tour Packages in Ireland

Sports aficionados will love Ireland, and Irish travel companies like Celtic Horizon Tours have highlighted the variety of sports and activities with their sport tourism packages. From football and rugby matches to horse racing, motorbike and motorsports racing in Ireland, if you are looking to visit an event to watch your favourite sports, or see your favourite sports team live in action, then these sports packages offer a great experience with exclusive privileges, the opportunity to meet celebrity players and access to restricted zones.

There are times when only one member of a family or couple is a sports fan, and families and partners tag along on the journey to make their loved ones happy.

But that doesn't mean they end up being bored or feeling left out. There are a ton of food, music, city tours, and experience options available in the sports packages offered by Celtic Horizon that can be ideal for families or travel groups with varied interests.

The Guinness Storehouse Tour Package in Dublin

A highly coveted tourist attraction in Dublin is the Guinness Storehouse Tour Package which gives visitors a hands-on look at the brewing process and history of the well-known Irish stout. The interactive exhibitions, tastings, and experiences on the seven floors of the tour showcase the Guinness brand and its influence on Irish culture.

For adults visiting Dublin in the spring, this Guinness Tour is one of the most valuable Ireland tour packages to pick from. The following activities are part of the experience:

- Learn about the ingredients and methods while getting a close-up look at the brewing process.
- Learn historical details and tales from your local tour guides.
- Visit the Gravity Bar to have a free pint of Guinness and take in the expansive views of Dublin.

The grounds of the brewery also have several other attractions, including restaurants, bars, and a gift store where guests may buy mementoes and items associated with Guinness. Anyone interested in Irish culture or beer brewing must visit The Guinness Storehouse.

The JT Brewski's Ireland Tour Package by Celtic Horizon Tours

The package is a guided tour of the prime cities and destinations in Ireland, including Dublin, Limerick, Athlone, Westport, and others. The inclusions in a trip package to Ireland can vary greatly, but normally they would include travel, lodging, and a few activities or sights. An example of a bundle would be:

- Round-trip airfare to Dublin
- Lodging at a premium hotel or B&B
- Using a coach bus or a rental car as transportation
- Visit popular tourist destinations like the Cliffs of Moher, the Ring of Kerry, or the Guinness Storehouse with guided excursions.
- Optional activities, like a tour of a whisky distillery or a pub performance of traditional music

Any tour package's fine print should be thoroughly examined to determine exactly what is and isn't included. Some packages could include optional extras or charge extra for particular activities.
